

Here is what attendees at Larry's sessions are saying

“Excellent, excellent session. Larry Wilson kept all our attention. He really got people to think of all the at-risk behaviors through our lifetimes. Great Session!”

“Comical speaker. Kept things interesting and I would definitely come see this speaker again.”

“Great awakening. This really hits home”.

“WOW he was great. I learned so much from him”

Larry has compiled all his years of experiences into a common sense approach to working safely on and off the job.

Larry Wilson is a frequent speaker at health & safety conferences across Canada and the United States including National Safety Congress, ASSE, CSSE, VPPPA and IAPA

His entertaining anecdotes and stories come from 20 years of assisting over 500 companies with Behavior Based Safety Processes. His presentations include employee motivational kick-offs to in-depth Observation Training to consultation with Management groups.

On the road 150 to 200 days per year – he has more practical experience (more companies, more places, more industries) than anyone else in the field.

In Larry's “spare” time he manages the Health & Safety Team at Electrolab and contributes articles to Health & Safety publications like Occupational Health & Safety, OHS Canada and Industrial Safety & Hygiene News.

As the Author of SafeStart: An Advanced Safety Awareness Training Program, Larry has compiled all his years of experiences into a common sense approach to working safely on and off the job.
